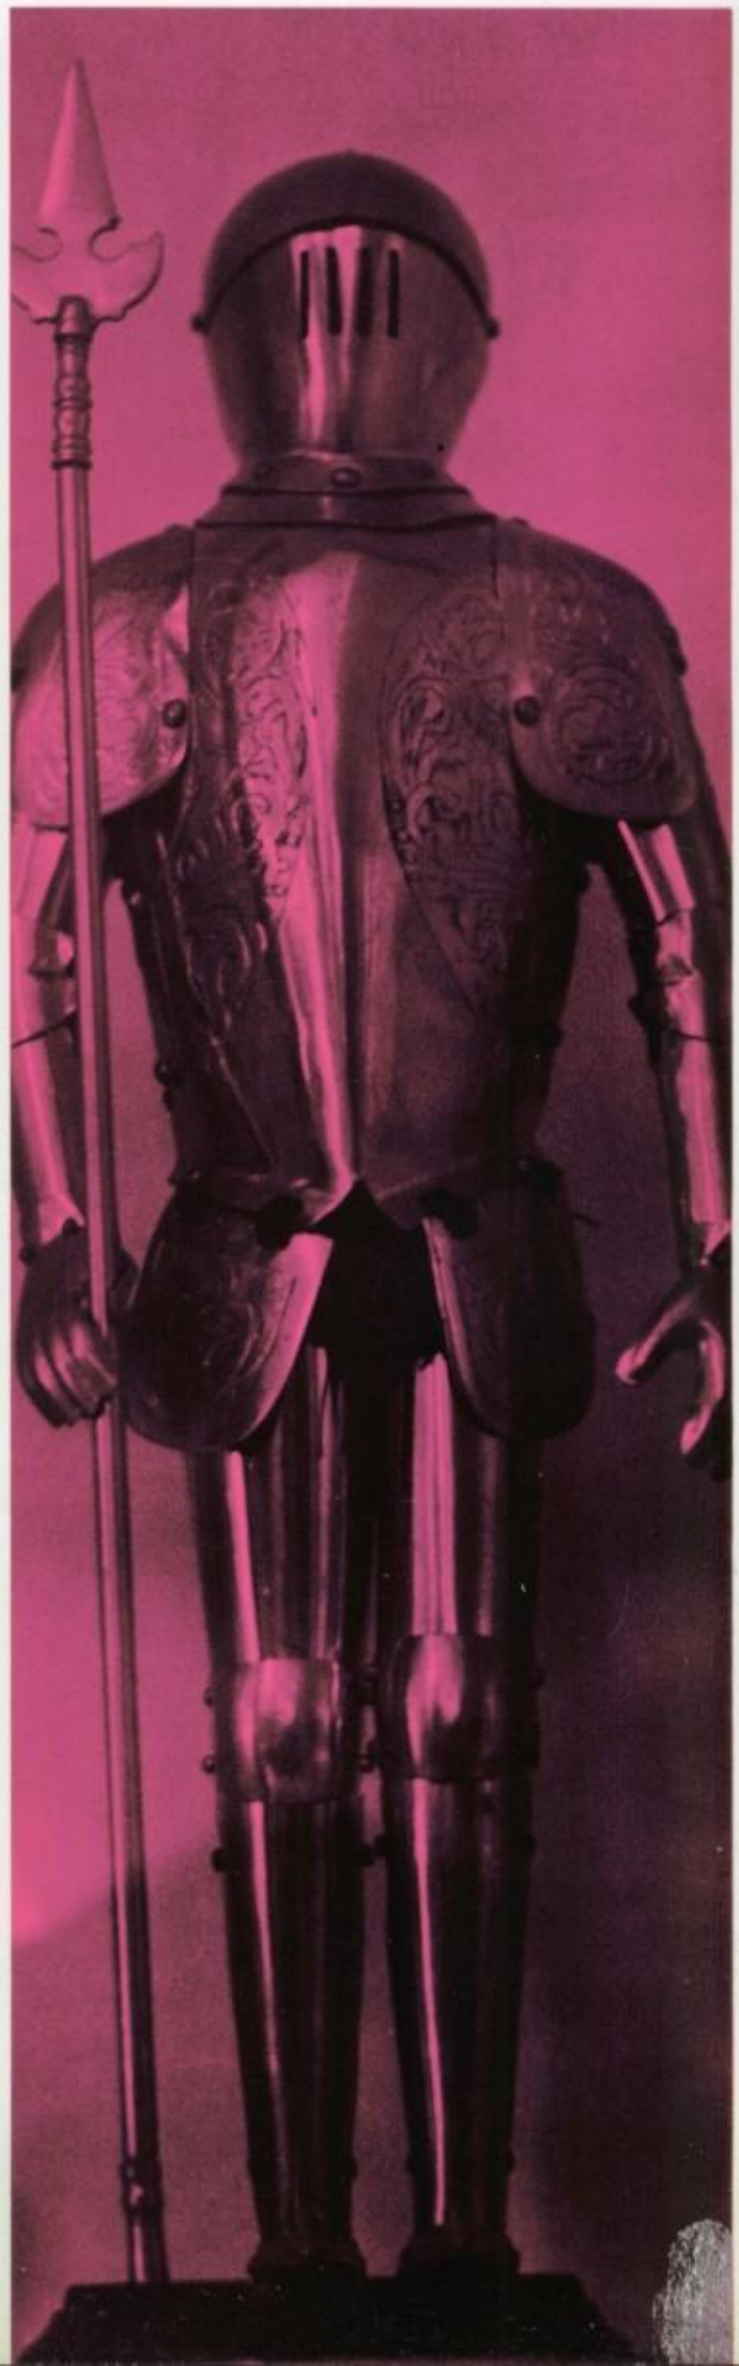
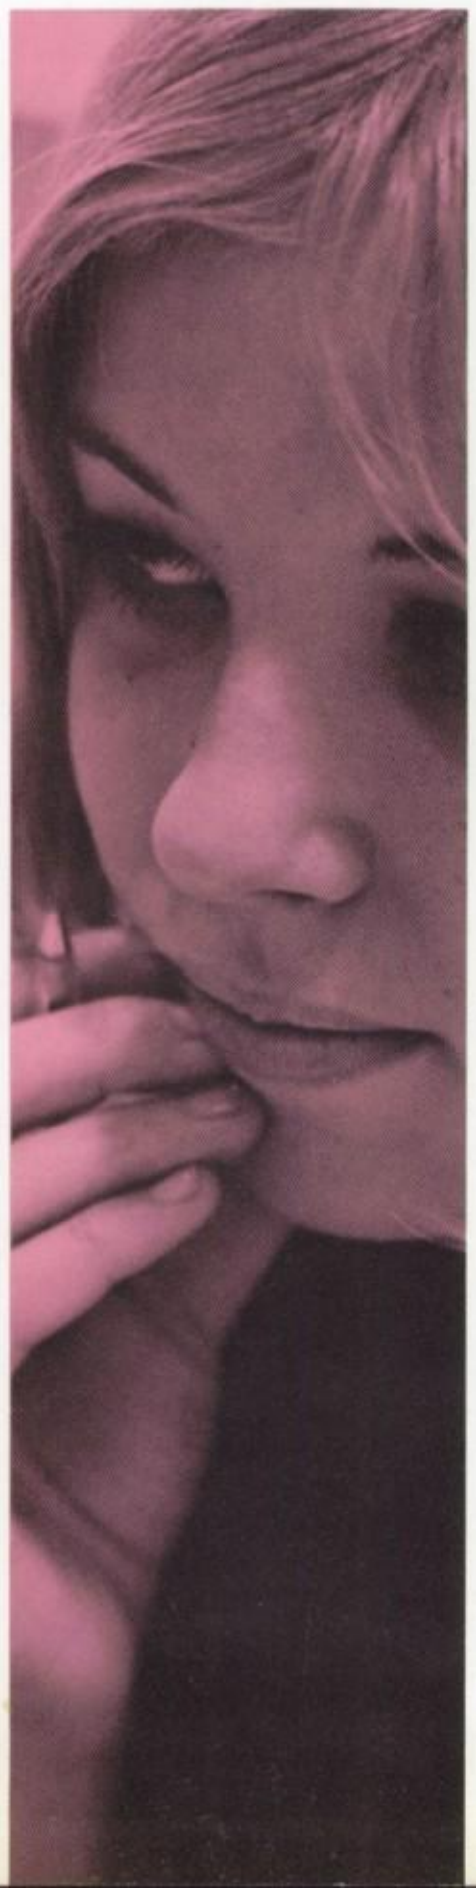
This Was Lincoln—A Slice Of Its Past

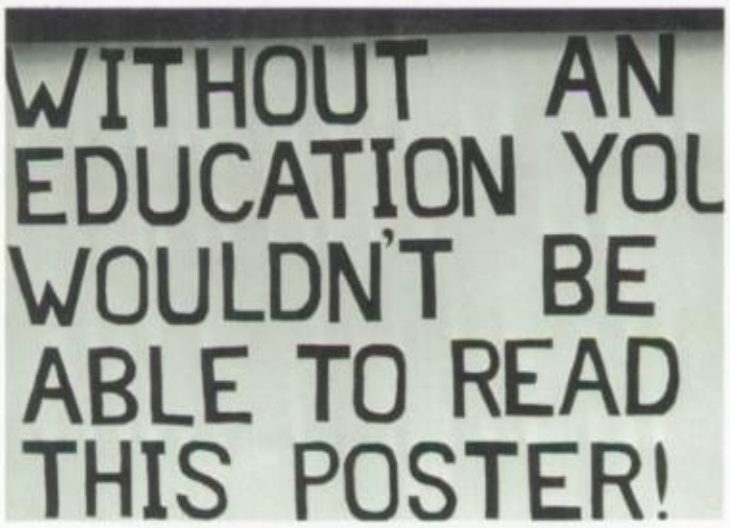


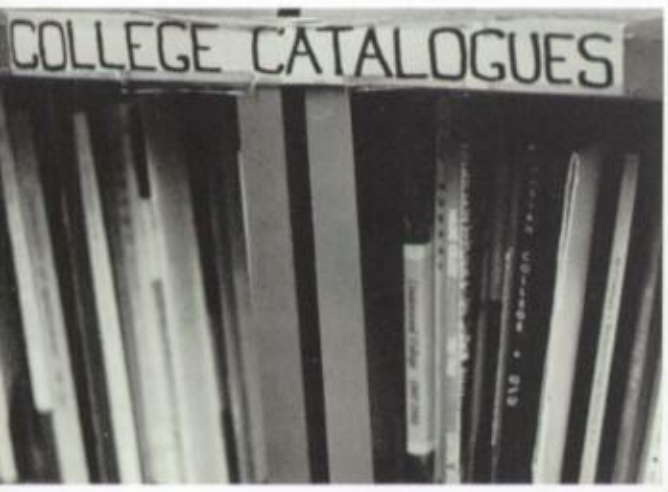


Things we remembered,
Times that were hard to forget,
Not enough time for anything—
especially sleep,
A time for laughs
And someone saying,
"No, I don't think so."
Controversy and fights,
And why does it matter after all?
Editorials and arguments—
For a week
Then silence—
For a month,
Heated controversy—
But who cares anyway?
Apathy, and why bother?
And after all,
THIS WAS LINCOLN.

Pieces Of It—Snatches That We Remember

THE FREEDOM SHRINE





Half forgotten names of people,
Things they've said—
Things too easily forgotten;
People rehearsing for something,
And crowds pushing and hurrying—

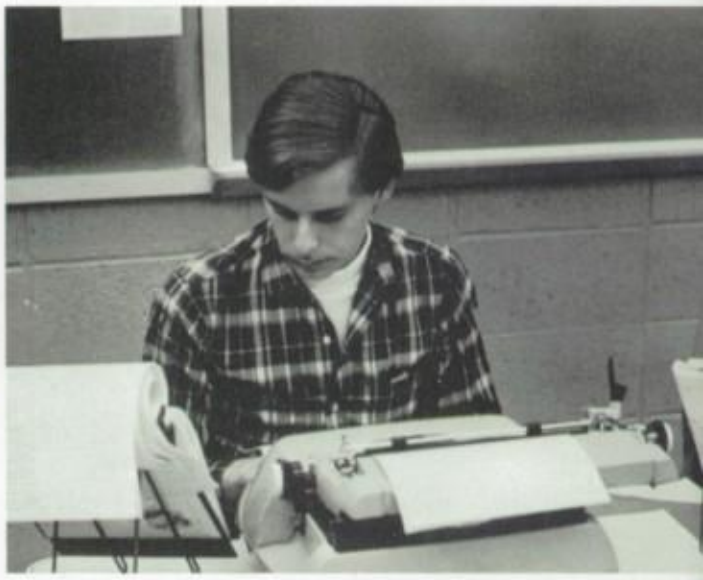
Fads That Came And Went

The small jokes—
and the big ones,
Someone's senior license!
The promises never kept,
The rings,
and pins,
and the date that fell through,
What to wear,
and which records to buy.

The Constant Battle With Grades



The almost failures—
and the complete ones,
The age-old excuses for undone homework,
Daydreaming in class—
thinking that hurts,
Problems to suffer with,
Papers to sweat over,
and crises to solve.

THE CALL OF THE WILD
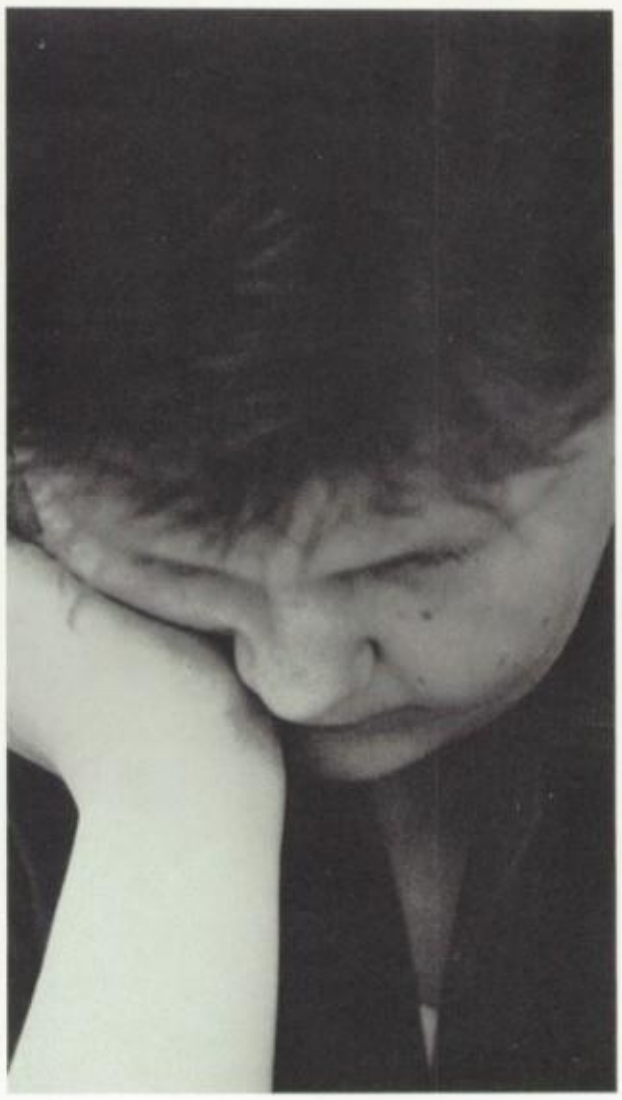
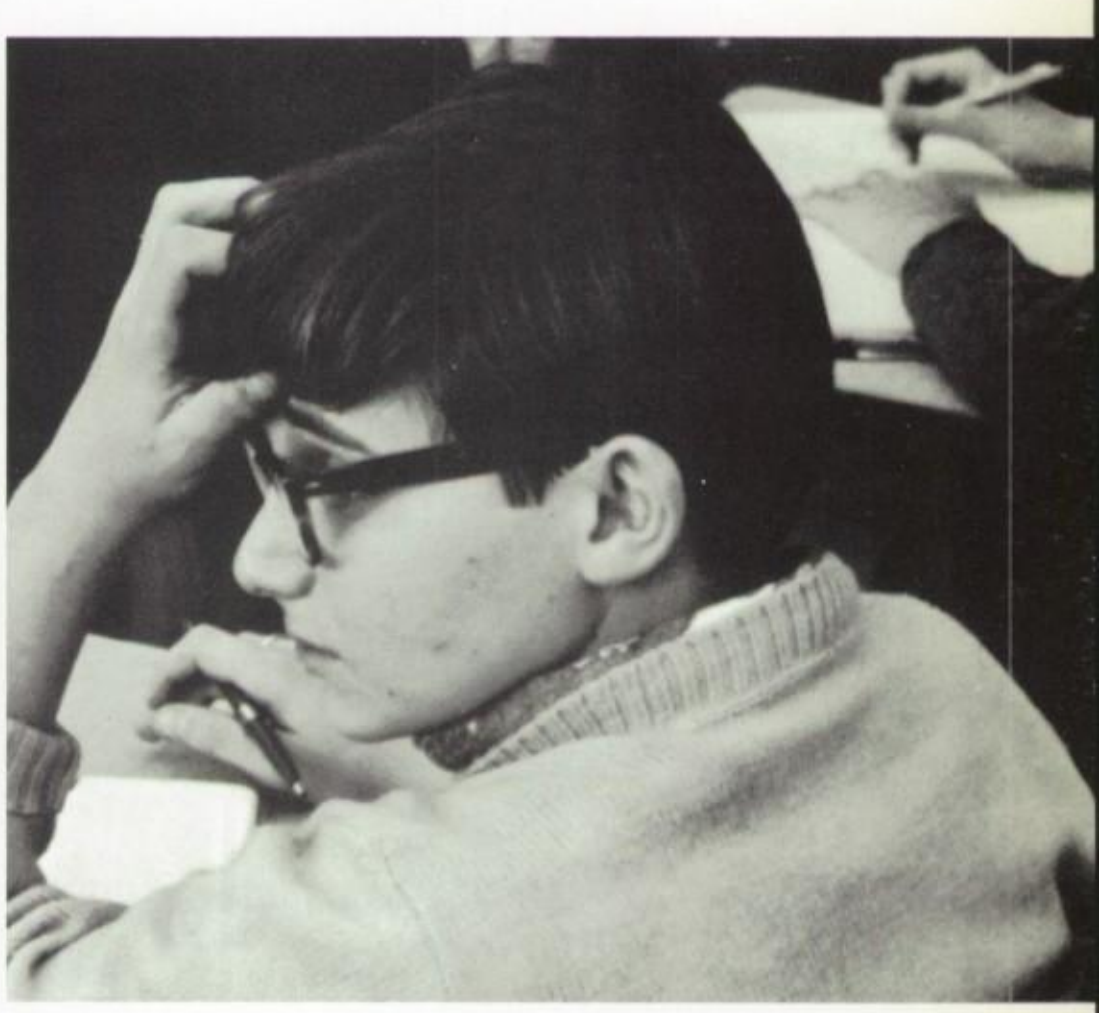
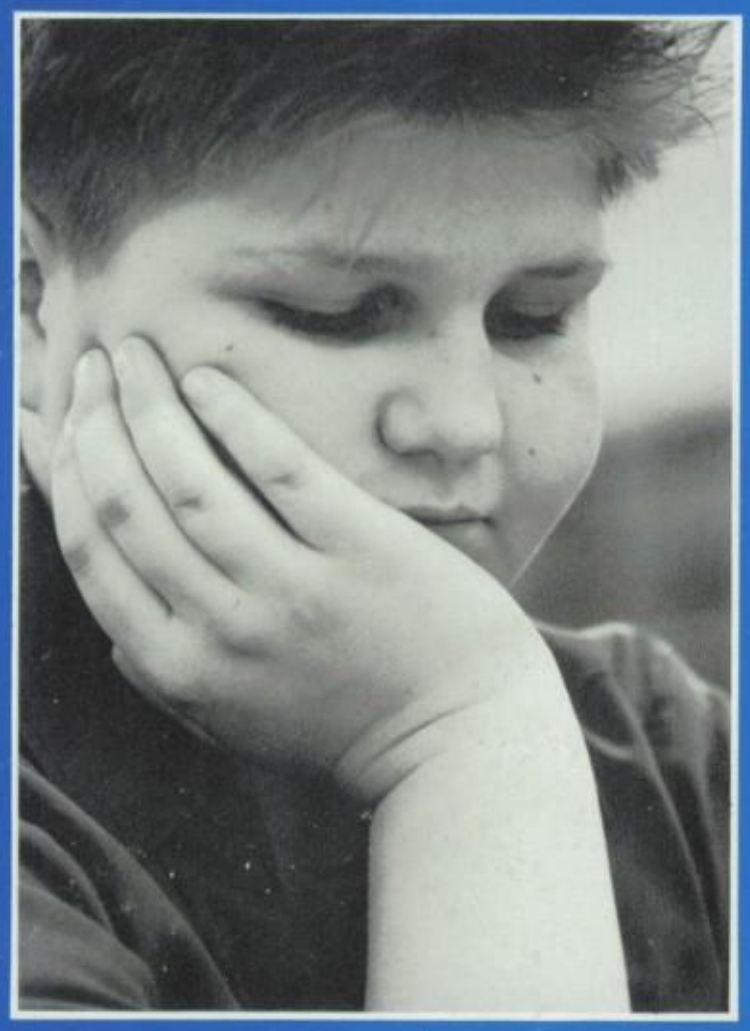
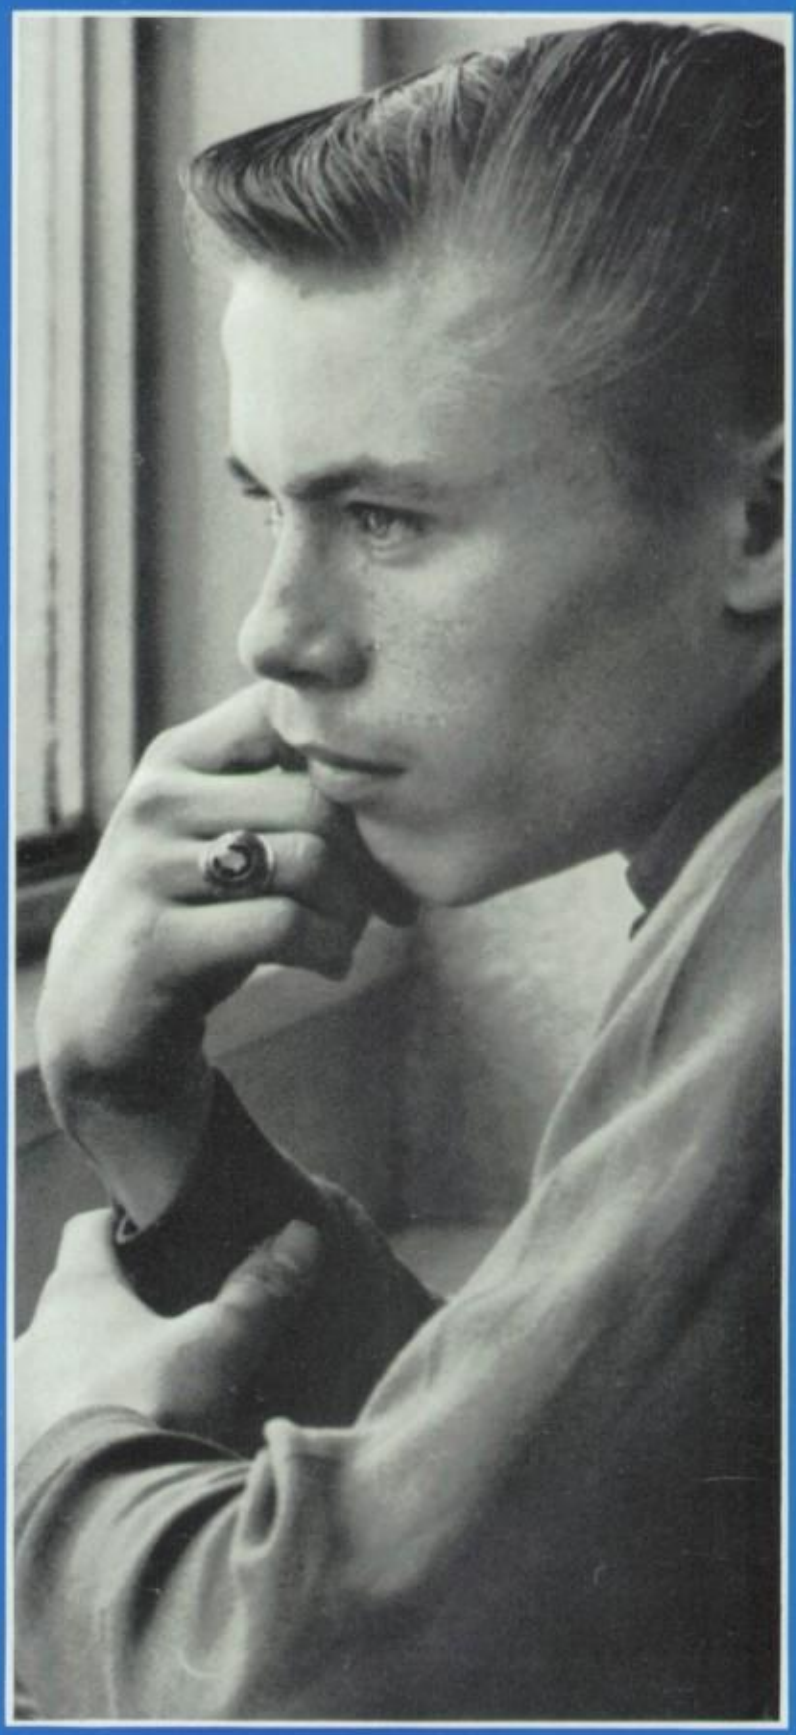
WHITE
FANG









Together—
They kindle a fire within us,
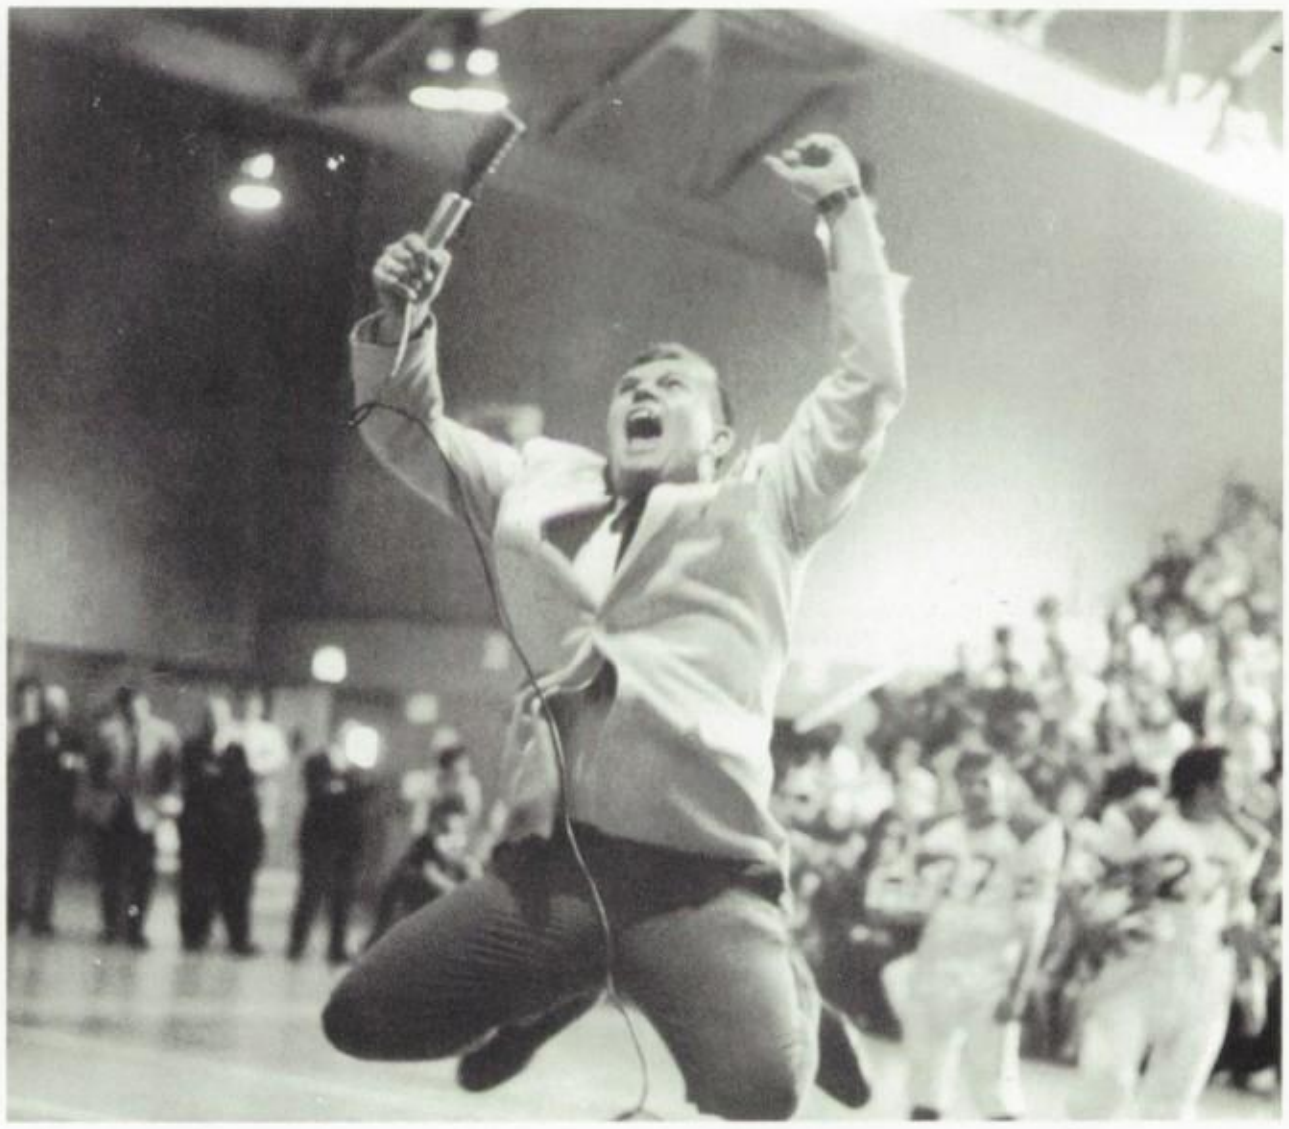
Creating a sense of belonging,
And pride.
Spirit for Lincoln . . .
The Lincoln we've hated,
And the Lincoln we've loved—
Alternately,
Despairingly,
Continuously.

It Is All These Things

A Burning Flame Within Us.



Lincoln—
Even as we touched it
and held it in our hands,
it changed.
But a pattern emerged,
and it is the same after all!
Yet, different from years before.
This is our school—
THIS IS LINCOLN.

Faculty

Many can transmit their knowledge to others, but how many are concerned with whether each individual understands? Many can smile at people, but how many have a smile that truly reflects the warm heart of a friend? Many enjoy receiving credit for work they've performed, but how many are willing to work diligently at a necessary, tedious task without receiving recognition for their efforts? This quality, the quality of humility is so rarely found in individuals that we feel it must be honored. Futhermore, the individual who best illustrates it also possesses the admirable qualities of friendliness, industriousness, and sincerity. We, the class of 1968, therefore take pride in dedicating this year's Lincoln Log to Mr. Angelo D'Anna.

"AMBITION—WHICH SIDE OF THE COIN"

Montaigne, the famous French essayist once stated that ambition was not a vice of little people. How right he was! On the other hand, Shakespeare wrote the following concerning ambition: "Too often those who entertain ambition, expel remorse and nature."

So we see that ambition has many facets—it is not a simple, basic concept. We generally agree that to be ambitious is a highly desirable trait. However, there are those about us who fail to see the need for honestly evaluating the goals they set for themselves. It is time you examined yours.

Ambition can be the spur that makes people come to grips with destiny and the incentive to go on to rich achievement. But, on the other hand, it can easily turn into love of power—a driving force that often tempts people to behave in ways contrary to moral laws.

You young men and women who will soon face life's challenges should strive to be ambitious to achieve good reputations and positions of respect; do not seek to make ambition the end in itself. Never make the mistake of encouraging ambition as a means to happiness only to wind up by finding out that it has become your way of life.

"FIRE"

What lies ahead for the Class of '68? Most probably you face a more serious situation than any class that has come before you. The World and the Nation are boiling: Vietnam, the Middle East, the Mediterranean, Civil Rights, the draft, taxes, crime in the streets—WAR or PEACE, this seems to be the choice.

Unfortunately, it is not easy to find answers to these problems, or the many others that face us. However, to the means to the ends are most probably as important as the solutions themselves. The contributions that you and your peers will make are going to help shape the tomorrows to come.

Are you fully prepared to make these decisions by dint of having achieved a minimum of 16 Carnegie Units, which entitles you to a diploma? Most probably not. However, it is hoped that through curricular offerings, your participation in the life of the school and an awareness of your growing privileges and responsibilities, some basic principles have been learned. There must be a basic honesty of purpose, a desire to gather all the facts and to fairly evaluate them, and finally, a perseverance to do what is necessary until the goal is achieved. If men of good will and integrity sit together to find a solution, IT WILL BE FOUND. I implore you all to be men and women of good will and integrity to help put out the FIRE, before it envelopes us.

Language

MISS MARGARET FITZGERALD

MRS. JOSEPHINE BRENT

Headed by Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, the Language department tried to develop an understanding of the cultures of the French, Spanish, and German speaking peoples, along with teaching the basic skills of these languages. The language lab, as in past years, served to facilitate the achievement of proper pronunciation and intonation by the students.

This year's aim of the English department, headed by Mrs. Mary Harmon, was to acquaint every pupil with the great literature upon which our culture is based, and to give him the skills in communication he will need in today's world.

An additional course for seniors, humanities, was introduced this year. Under the supervision of Mrs. Soff, the class combined the study of English, art, and music, in attempting to develop an appreciation and understanding of man.

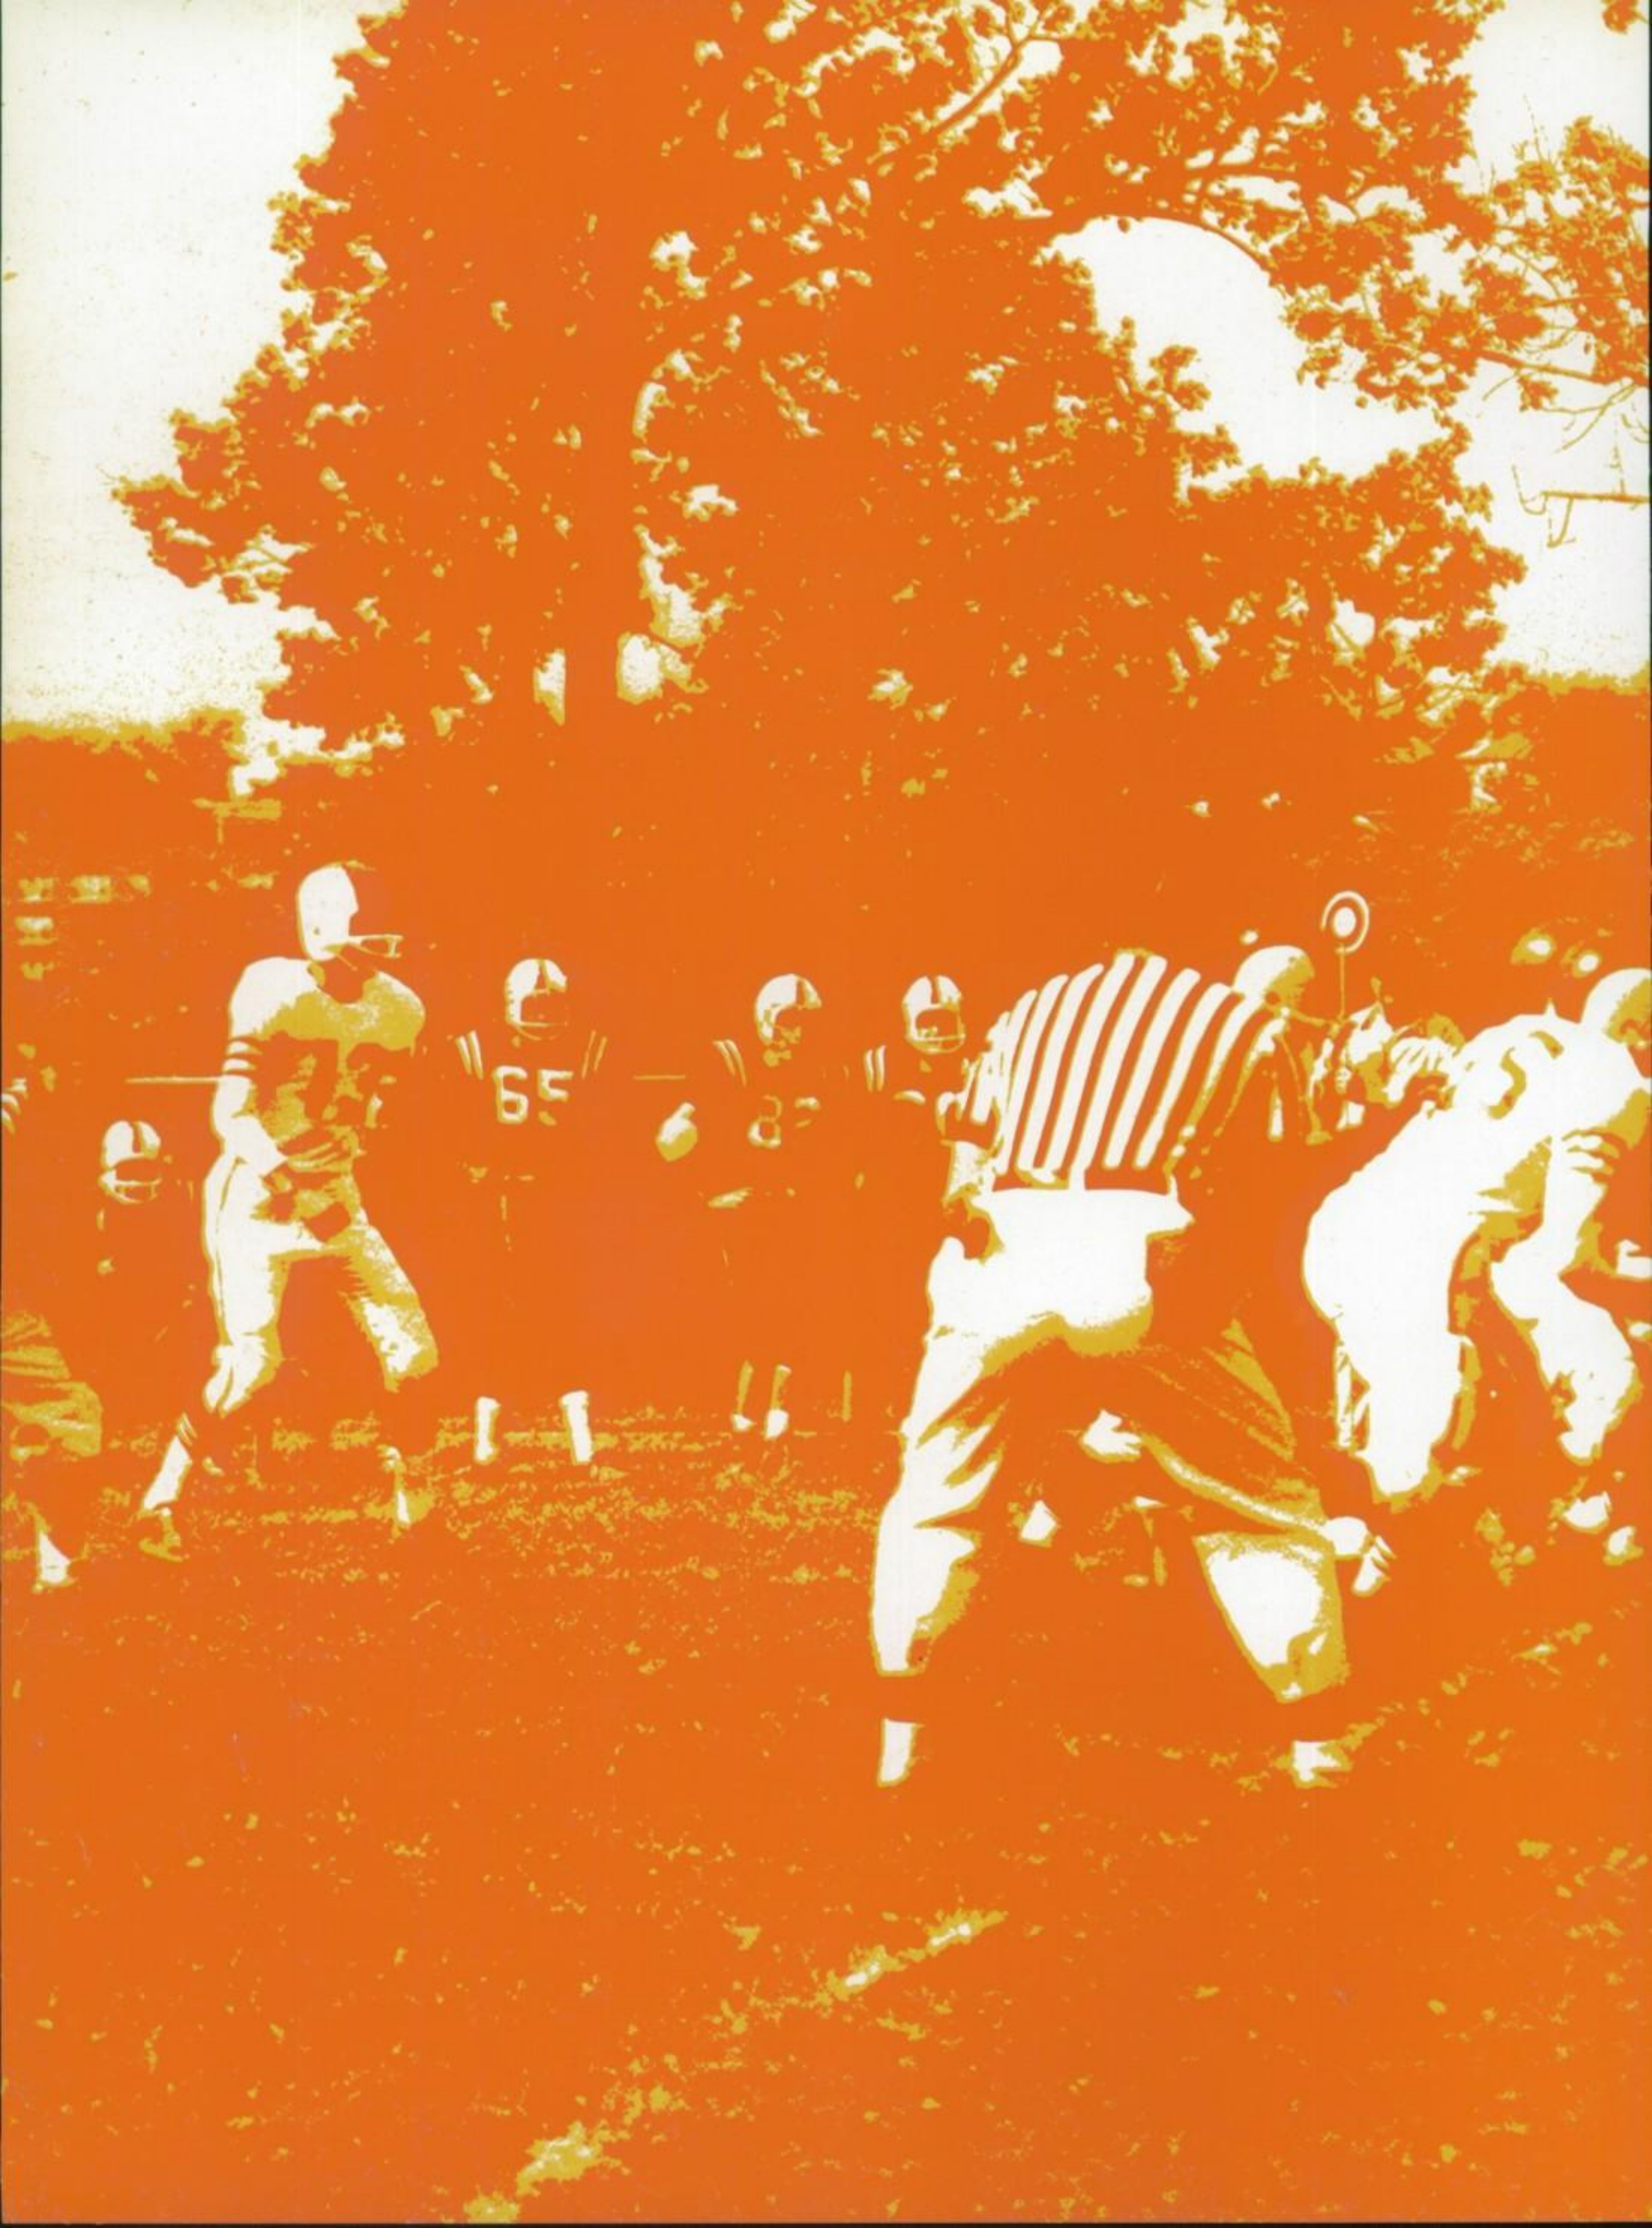
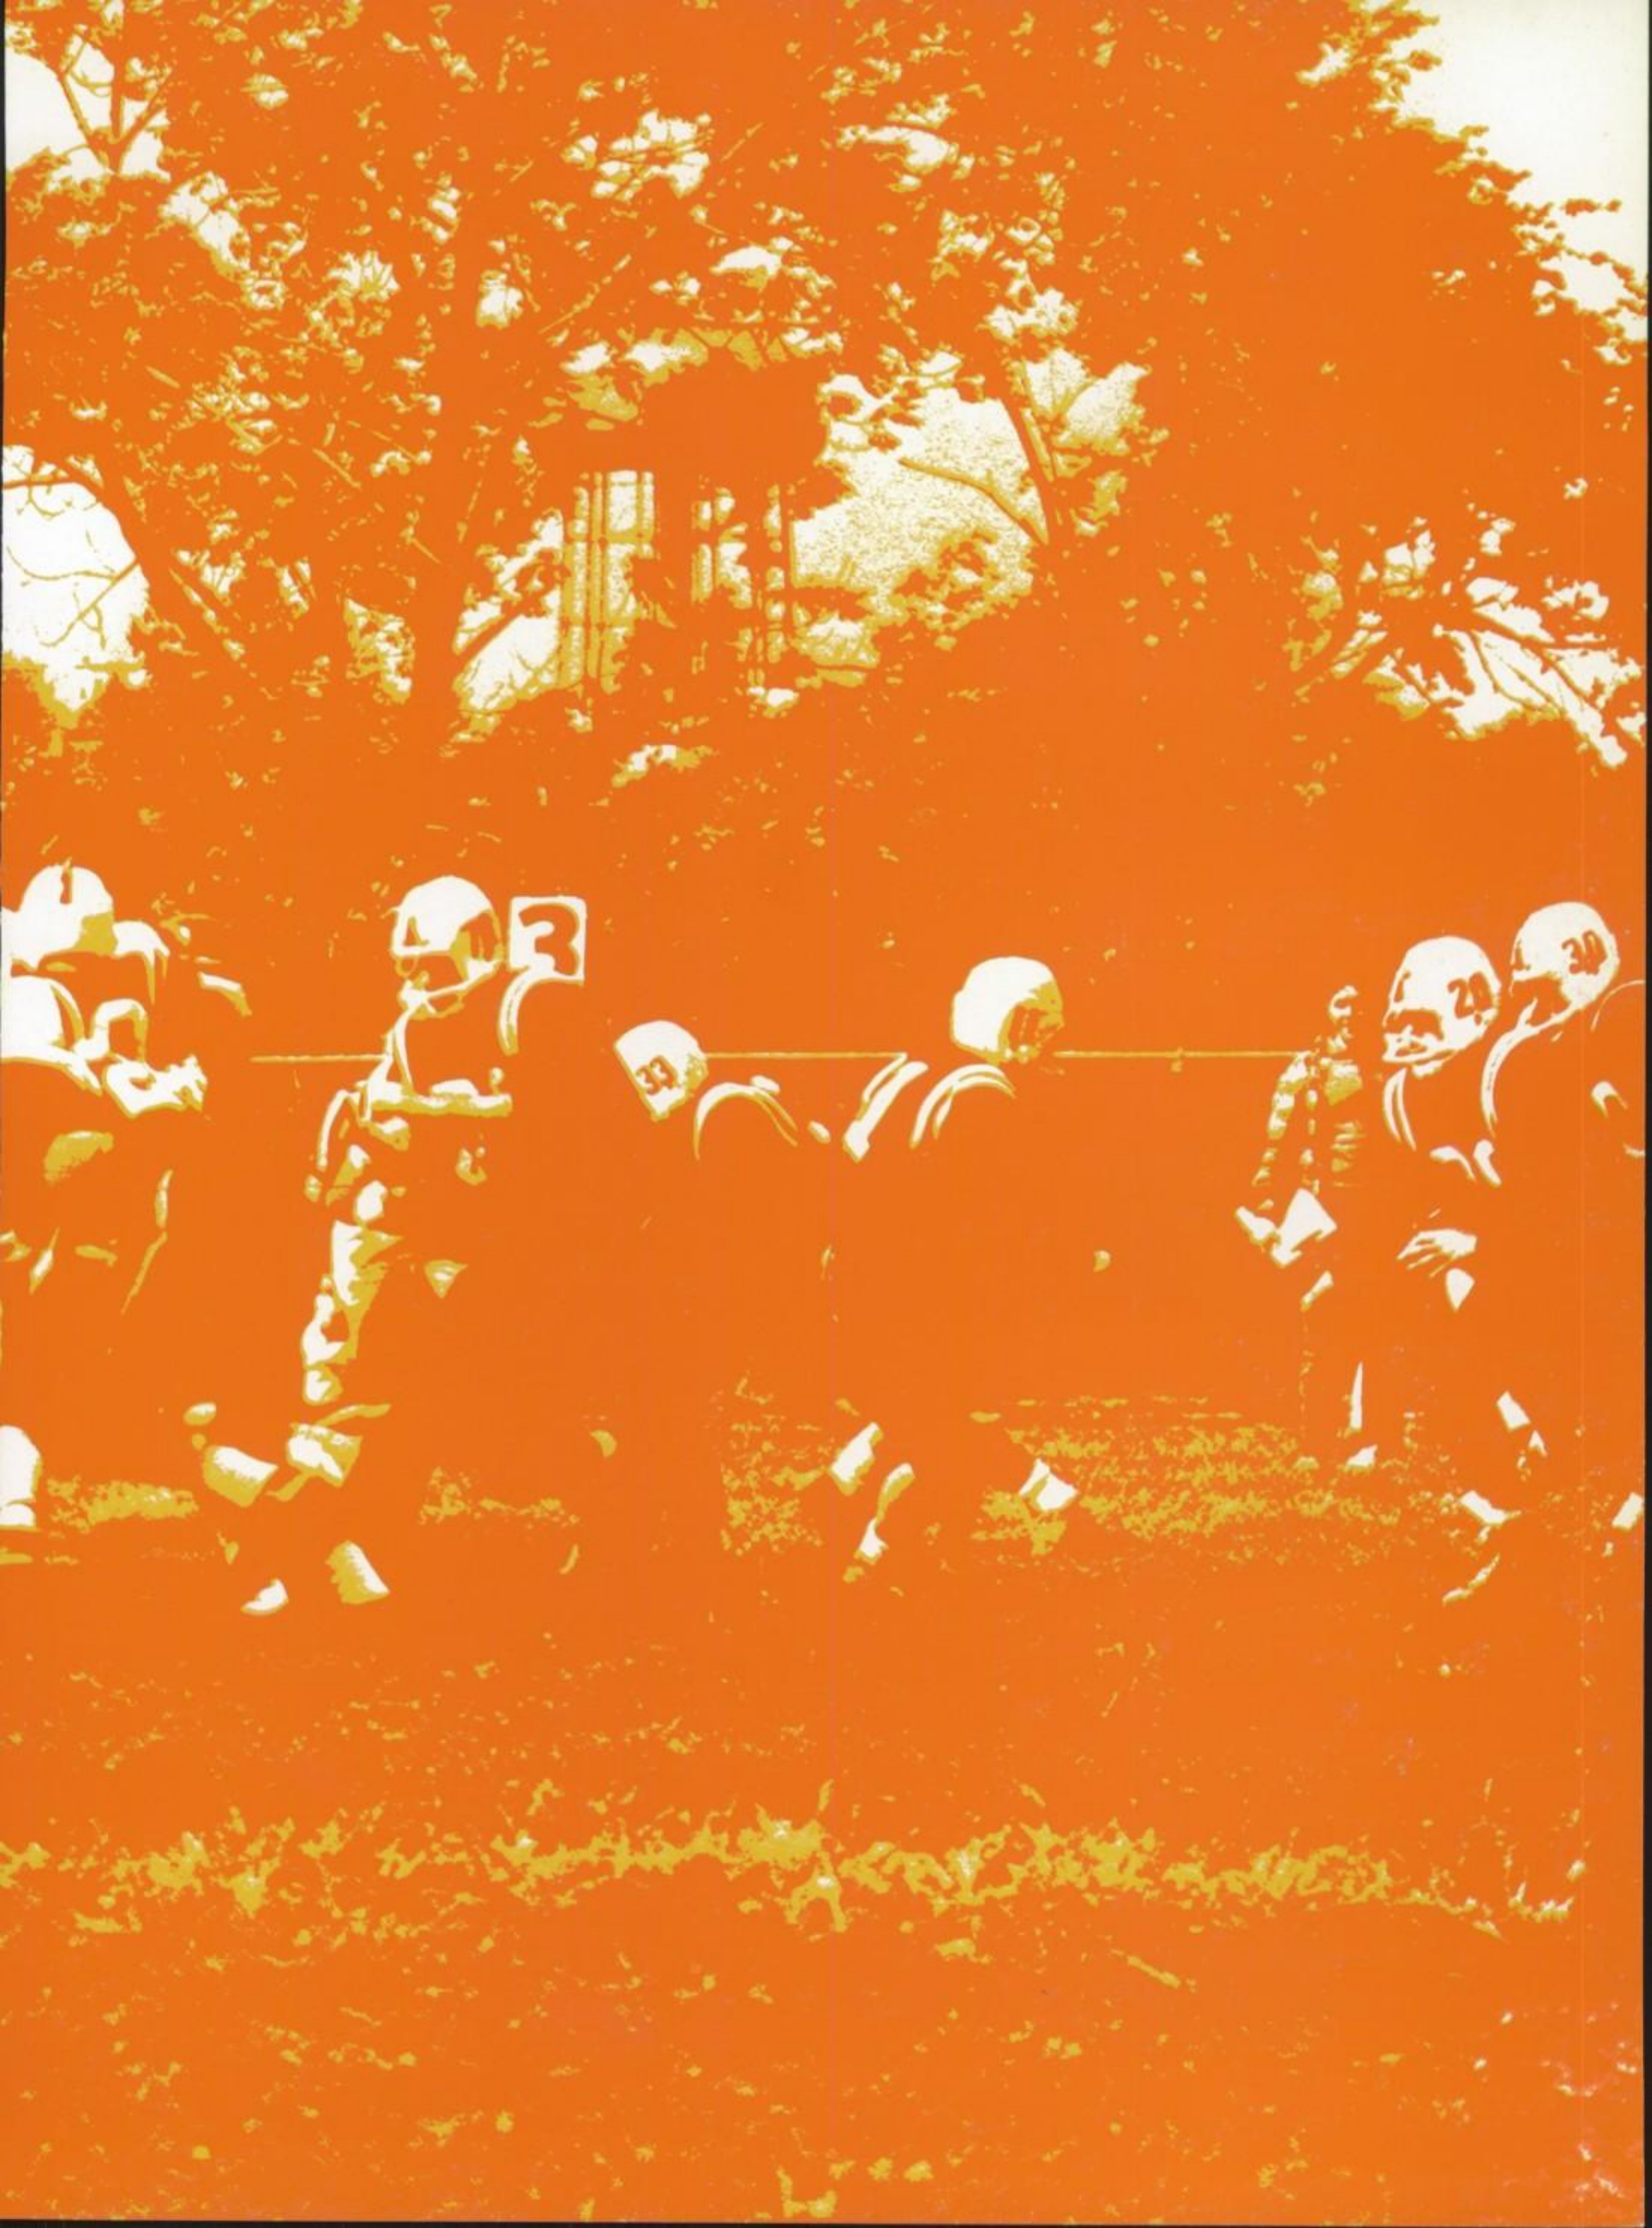
Although experiencing a dismal season as far as record goes, the 1967 football team was able to boast of many fine performers and of a tremendous amount of effort exerted.

Quarterback John Barro and end Bill Olsen, both juniors, performed extremely well all season, with the latter on the receiving end of many long passes. Sophomores Joe Monaco and David Pekera provided much of the yardage on the offensive attacks, with frequent running gains.

The most promising point of the season came in the game against Saunders, in which the Lancers outplayed the strong Saunders squad, only to lose in the last quarter as the result of bad breaks. Despite the loss, our defense held up remarkably with the aid of Quinny Ciffutelli, John Lauro, Greg Masone, and John Barro.

With the major part of the team returning next year, Lincoln can look forward to a very bright season in city competition.





J.V. Football

Under the tutelage of coach William Pekera, the 1967 Lincoln J.V. Football team compiled a 1–2–1 city record. High points of the season for the Little Lancers were a 19–6 victory over Yonkers, and a roughly contested 13–13 draw with Saunders.

The most prolific part of the J.V.'s game was their offense, which constantly rolled up 250 or more yards in almost every contest. Running back Steve Padilla, linebacker Joe Breglia, and tackle Howie Dallinga were this year's standouts. Although losing many of last year's stars, this J.V. team can be praised for a very creditable showing.

J.V. Basketball

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team, coached by Mr. Walter Edge, had a successful season during which they posted seven victories. The team was sparked by the excellent shooting of such players as Richy Zingaro, Joe Monaco, and Steve Padilla, and the revounding skill of Gary Roskowski. The Varsity can expect to gain many talented recruits from this 1967–68 J.V. team.

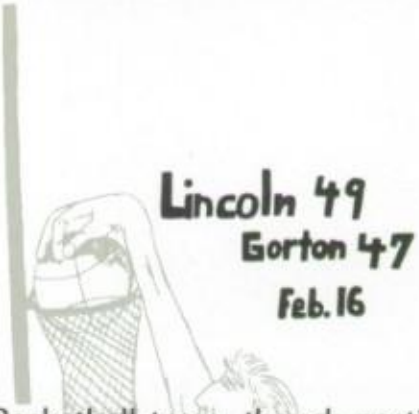
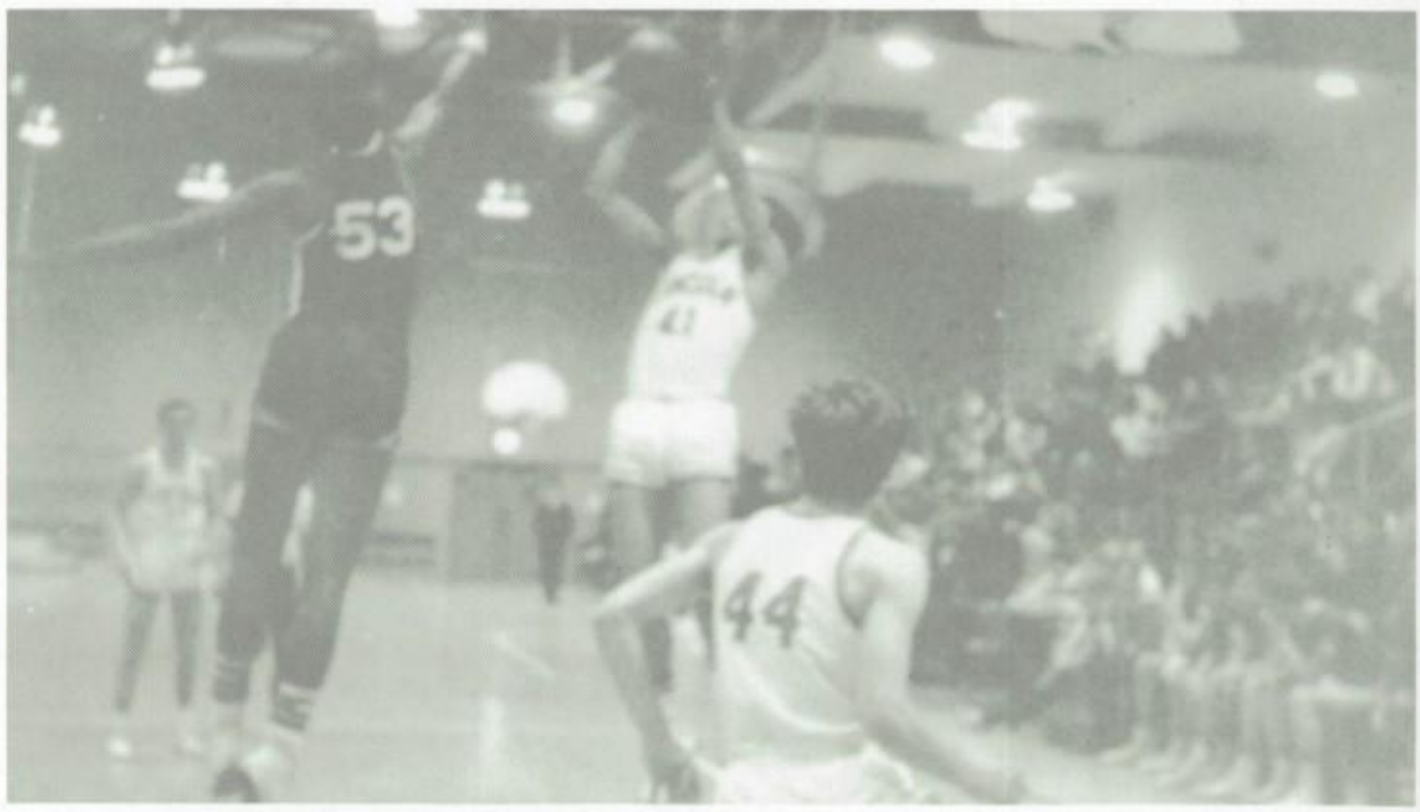
Varsity Basketball



This 1967–68 Varsity Basketball team, though posting a comparatively dismal 4–10 overall won-lost record, was one to be proud of. For the first time in seven years, Lincoln was able to beat one of the county's major powerhouses, Gorton. This proved to be one of Lincoln's greatest basketball victories in many a year.

The season began at the J.F.K. tournament at Somers H.S. and saw Lincoln lose the first game, but come back with a big win in the consolation game against North Salem. Following that win, Lincoln rolled on to a victory over Commerce H.S., but then lost consecutively to Roosevelt, Gorton and Yonkers. Then, in our gym, the mighty Lancers played a game to be remembered for a long time, defeating Gorton 49–47. There were standout performances such as the able rebounding of "Dukie" Simon and the great hustling of Frank Crenindino, both juniors. The next week, the Lancers completely demolished Saunders. Leading the 67–45 point triumph were senior Harry Neilson and junior John Barro, both hitting for 20 markers.

Other standouts this season included seniors Eulace Peacock, Dennis Fortino, Bill Moody, and John Linkowski, and juniors Bobby Peacock, Jimmy Young and Bill Frasier.



Swimming

The swimming team under coach Sal Trapani, this year was one which possessed much skill and experience, as well as material for the future. Placing second in the final city standings, the mermen were led consistently by captain Larry Greenberg in the butterfly event, Burt Schein in the breaststroke, and Ken Greenberg in the long distance freestyle. Other point getters for the team included seniors Marty Rosen, Steve Holtz, and Tom Buonicontri, and underclassmen Don Frum and Ed Feris.

Phil,
I enjoy basketball this year in and especially out of school. It was a lot of fun even if we didn't win all our games. Take advantage of the favorite school. It's your last since I was a kid. Good Luck
Lenny

Track

This season turned out to be one of great promise for the Lincoln Lancer Track Team. With the fine running ability of Bruce Lemme, Lenny Schutzman, Ed Sperling, Marty Lecker, and Gary Rogow, and the excellent field participation of Bob Kluge and Eulace Peacock, the Lancers were threatening in every meet. Under the coaching of Dom Iannacone the team placed fairly well in the final league standings. Along with the outstanding performers came some of the consistent competitors of the Lincoln squad, including sprinter Gary Rogow, Bill Olsen and field men Greg Masone and Bob Burz.

Cross Country

The high point of the Lancer thinclads came on October 11 at Tibbetts Brook Park as the team scored a double victory in a triangular meet against Roosevelt and Commerce. Leading the Peter L. Diaferia coached Lancers was team captain Bruce Lemme. At the annual Yonkers City League cross country championship on October 25, Lincoln finished 5th. Bruce Lemme, however, finished 2nd out of a field of 57 boys with a time of 13:10. Other members of the team were Martin Lecker, Dennis Fortino, John Mahoney, Barry Collins, Dennis Harrington, Mike Martirano, Bill Borkowski, Rich Calmc, and Frank Perna.

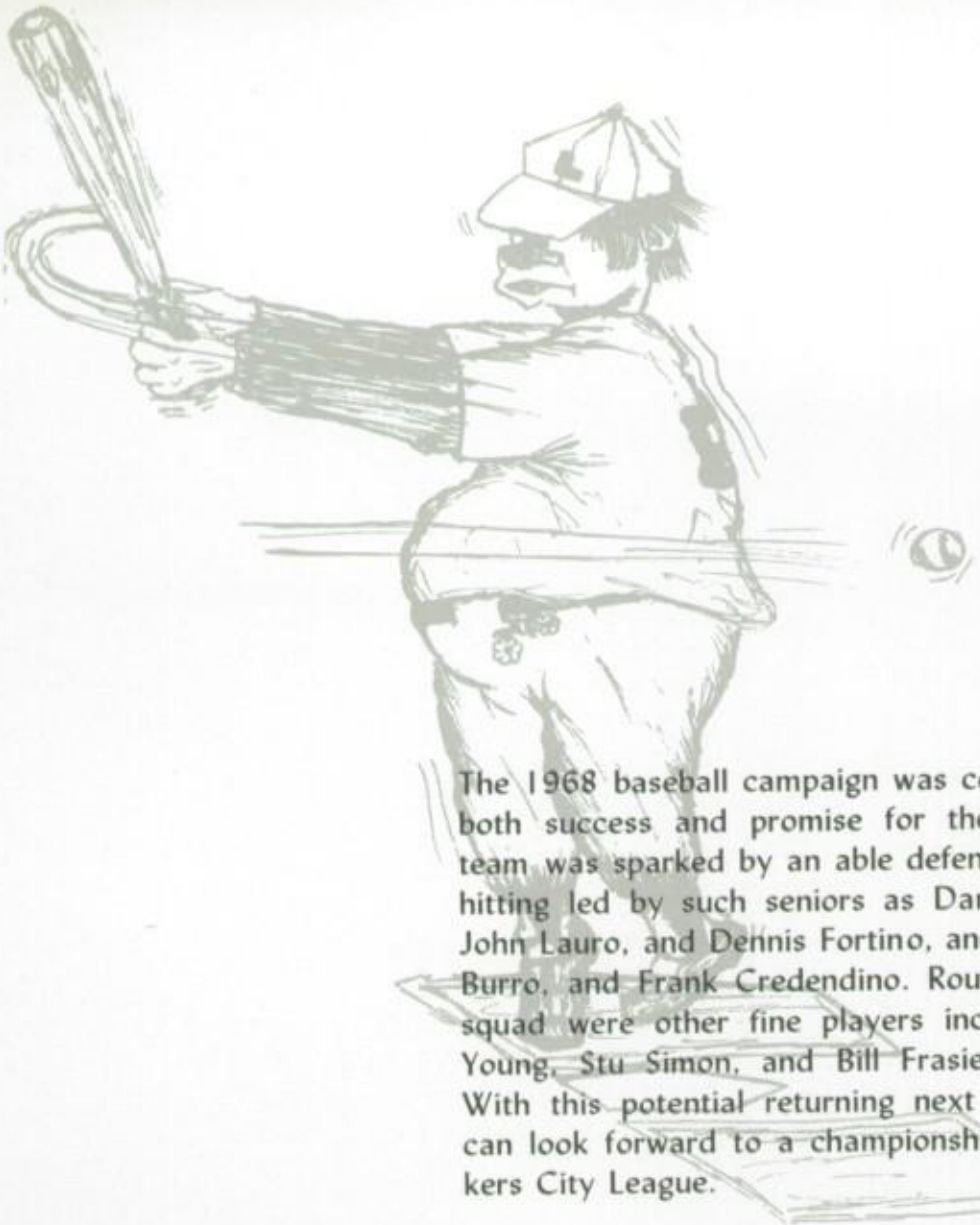
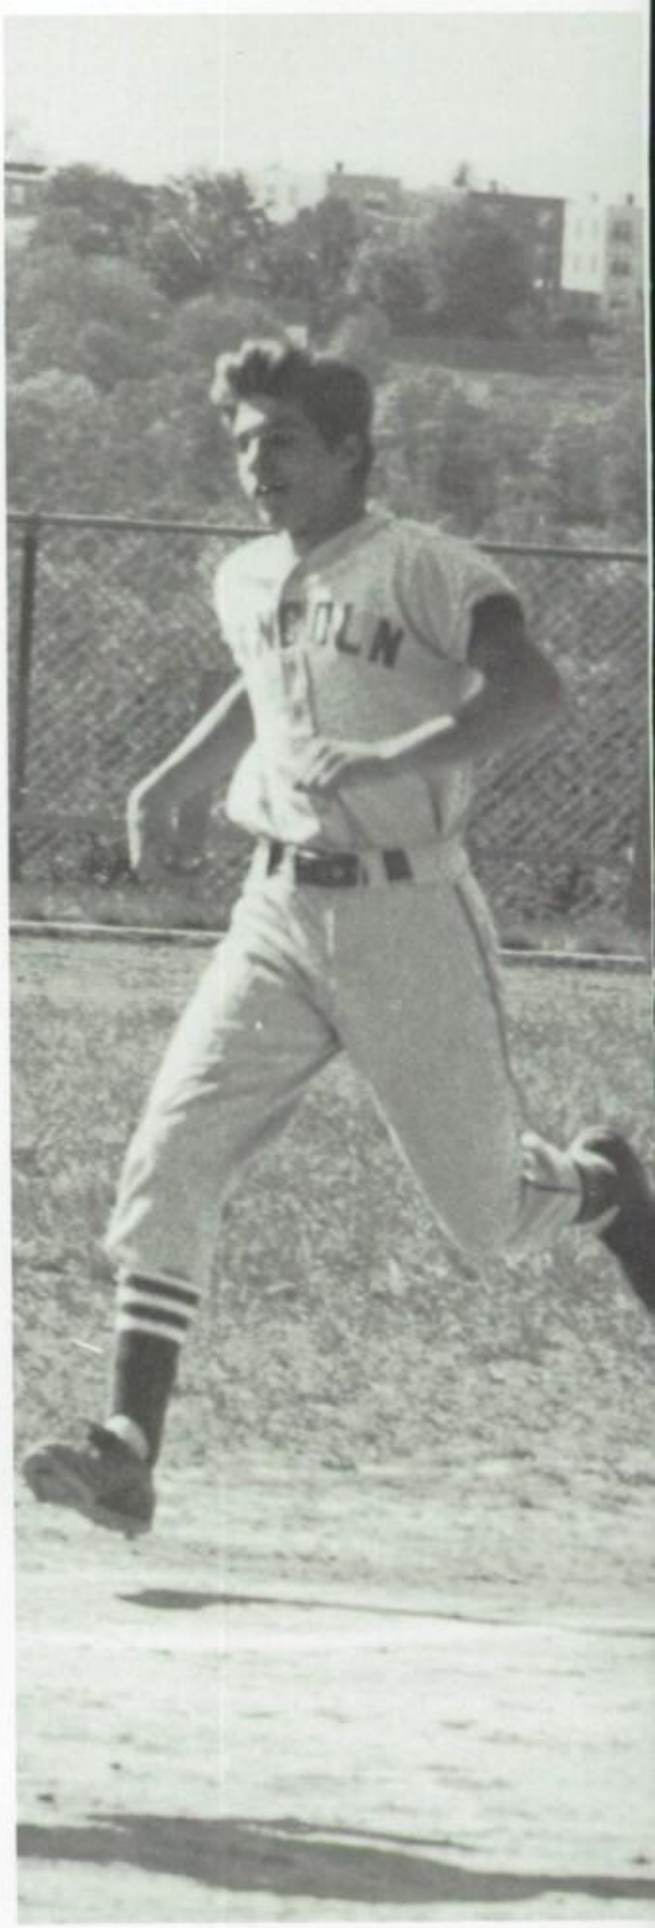
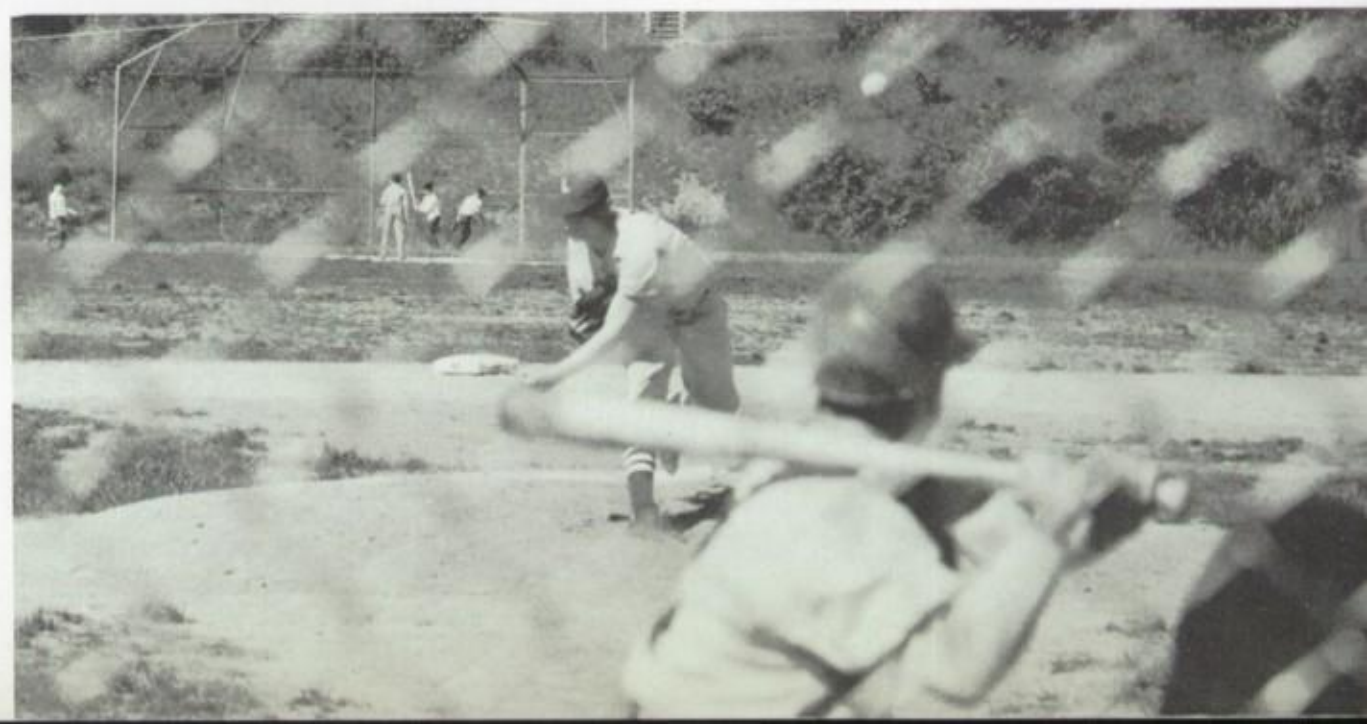
Baseball



The 1968 baseball campaign was completed with both success and promise for the future. The team was sparked by an able defense and strong hitting led by such seniors as Dan Montesione, John Lauro, and Dennis Fortino, and juniors John Burro, and Frank Credendino. Rounding out the squad were other fine players including Jimmy Young, Stu Simon, and Bill Frasier, all juniors. With this potential returning next year, Lincoln can look forward to a championship in the Yonkers City League.





Bowling

The Lincoln Keglers, under the direction of Coach Jeremiah Jerome, completed a successful season of bowling, finishing in second place. The team was led by Bob Diehl, the team's captain, and Jeff Kitter. Bob finished the season with an average of over 180. Other bowlers were Al Guardo, Peter Haff, Mickey Strelecky, and Jim Hansen.

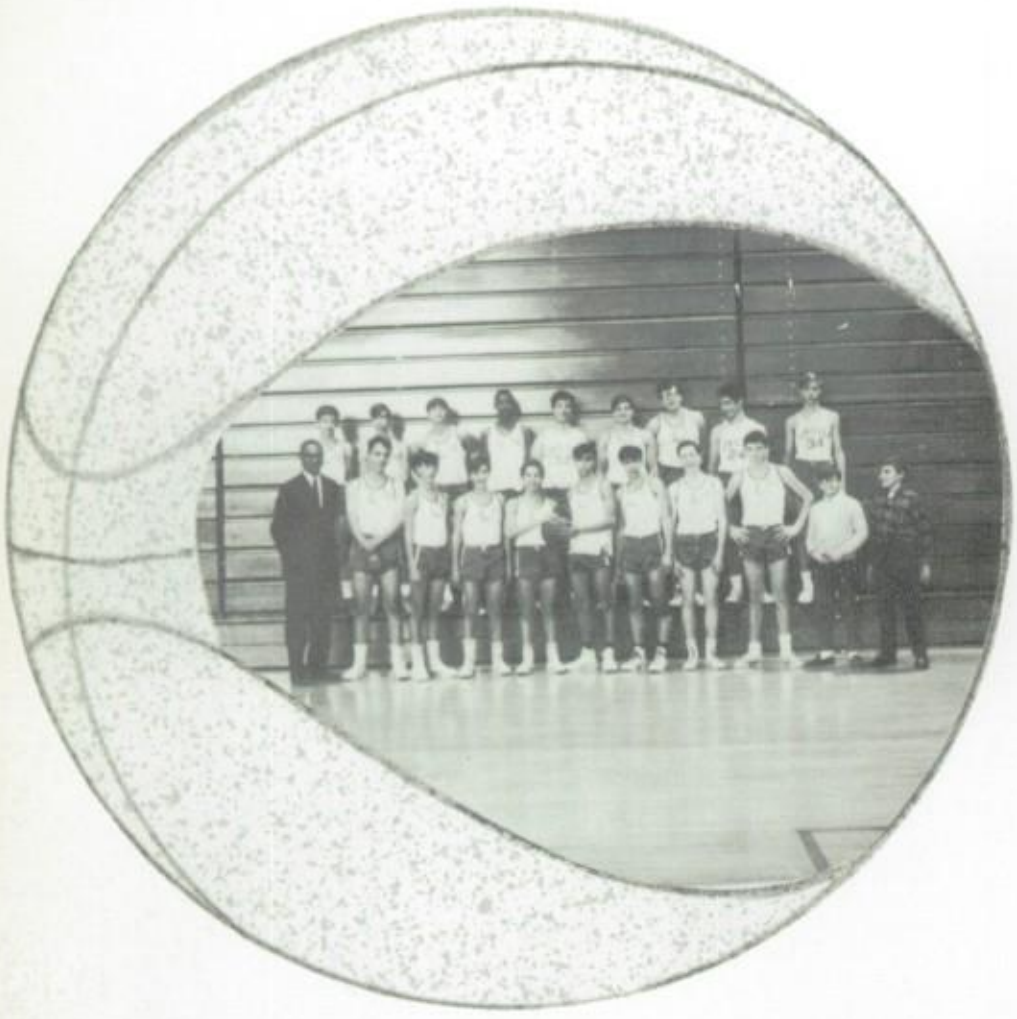
Junior High Basketball



Although hampered once again by a lack of sufficient height, the Junior High Basketball team, led by captain Rob "Rollie" Banks and ninth graders Eliot Schuman, Howie Ecker, Bob Previtti, Mark Novak, John Franchi, Ken Robertson and Mike Grice, and coached by Mr. Walter Edge, went through an improved season this year. The team's talent and strength was augmented by eighth grade starter, Hank Rosen. The climax of the season came when the team defeated Mark Twain by a score of 36–28.

Junior High Track

The Junior High track team, led by coach Walter Edge, once again finished high in the standings in the city-wide meet this year, despite the loss of many talented ninth and eighth graders. Paul Rosenberg, Howie Ecker, Jon Fried, Bob Previtti, and Ken Robertson, gave Lincoln many performances worthy of recognition.

VOLUME XIV — NO. 2 LINCOLN HIGH SCHOOL, YONKERS, NEW YORK NOVEMBER 20, 1967

Lynne Dumat
Editor-in-Chief

Athlete Of The Month

by Ken Greenberg

This issue, The Scroll moves to the football department in saluting John Barro as the November ATHLETE of the MONTH. He is, and has been, one of Lincoln's most outstanding gridders for the past two years.

All-City John Barro

John's sports career began last year as a sophomore. He achieved All-City recognition as a safety, making many key intereceptions and tackles. Barro started at quarterback for the Varsity gridders when first-stringer Steve Valle was injured and, in a game against Tuckahoe, he threw a sixty yard pass for a Lancer touchdown.

At present, John is both fullback and part-time quarterback for the Purple and White. At safety again this year, he has consistently come up with many fine defensive plays. In the first five games of the '67 campaign, our ATHLETE of the MONTH passed for two touchdowns (both to Bill Olsen), and ran for three, although his ground gains have all been nullified on offensive penalty calls.

When asked about the team's sluggish start, John replied, "The fan support has been weak, and as a result the team spirit is down." He also added, "The team is young, with seven of the starting eleven being sophomores and having little varsity experience."

In addition to football, John is looking forward to playing basketball and baseball for the Lancers. The Scroll wishes John Barro great success in football and all of his other future endeavors.

"Lost" Plays by Pinter and O'Neill "Found" on B'way

Unsung Hero

Most of you now reading this column have probably read our Shining Knight column at one time or another. The latter is dedicated to those students who hold high positions at Lincoln, such as editorships or elected offices. But what happens to the students who aren't at the top academically, but who nonetheless work assiduously, contribute to school and community life, and most of all are just plain nice people? This is the question that we of the Scroll asked ourselves, and we hope the answer is contained in our brand new column, the Unsung Hero. A student of any age is eligible for this title and we hope to choose someone from a different grade each issue. This month, senior Linda DiFalco has been selected as the first Unsung Hero.

Linda has dark hair, large brown eyes, and a warm sincere smile which frequently lights up her face. She is an amiable person whom you can always count on for a friendly word. Having worked as assistant counselor at Dunwoodie Park, she learned to cope with children from ages four to sixteen. Linda loved it, and now hopes to become an elementary school teacher. Why not high school? Linda replied laughingly, "I don't think I could possibly handle all those big kids."

Linda enjoys sewing, playing the piano, baking, and listening to popular music. She loves stuffed dogs and cats and has a large selection of dolls from several countries including Italy, Japan, and Spain. Although never having trav-

Dear Sadie

Dear Sadie:

Boy, are you a nosey person! Probing into other people's affairs the way you do! Who do you think you are, a psychiatrist or something? When someone finds out who you really are, they'll MURDER you! Better watch out, honey pie!

Signed,
Interested

Dear Interested:

You want to know who I am? Boy are you a nosey person, probing into other people's affairs the way you do! What do you mean when someone finds out . . .

Dear Sadie:

I am going out with this lovely girl, but how can I tell her she has bad breath in a tactful way?
Signed,
C. Palmolive

Dear C.:

Don't be absurd! I've never heard of anyone having bad breath in a tactful way!

You Said It!

Let's Take Action To Clean The Stadium!

Since the beginning of the football season, it has been apparent to many students that our two year old stadium is becoming a total wreck. This statement does not include damage done in the terms of broken glass and scattered refuse. The main gripe of Lincolnites is what others have done to it. They have sought to brazenly print their names in bright colors across the face of our stadium. It might have all been a big joke to them, but it certainly isn't very funny to us. We do not positively know who is vandalizing the stands, but we do know for certain, soon there won't be any uncovered areas left to paint. It is true that several Lincoln students went over to Roosevelt's field and painted LHS and Lincoln in blue and white paint on the rear of their school. We have, however, graciously and generously reimbursed them for the damage done. This necessarily doesn't put us totally in the right, but at least we have tried to make amends for our mistakes. Why then, shouldn't those who have done us wrong, come and remove their little souvenirs from our stadium? It seems to be the only right thing to do. All the other schools, with maybe the exception of Roosevelt have delapidated fields, and since they frequently use Lincoln's field, why should they ruin what doesn't belong to them? If enough complaints are raised by us, the students of Lincoln High School, maybe some action will be taken before the end of the year to rid our stadium of its unsightly mess. Remember, only you can help solve [illegible] time is now!

One day, Suzi Cute said:

Hector Sweetie, I think you're cute. Come over and see me sometime!

So Hector quite naturally turned that personal shade of pink and ran home. So who, in her infinite wisdom, offered her wise counsel? You guessed it.

Momma! Momma! Suzi's been sayin' things again.

Don't you think anything of it. She's just the neighborhood hussy.

And guess what Hector said to Suzi, the neighborhood hussy?

Suzi Cute, my mother say's you're a hussy!

This year, General Organization President Frank Perna successfully executed his "New Front" campaign promises. Lincoln was the home of a vibrant, new G.O. in which G.O. members seemed to easily communicate their ideas to the officers. Thus, many popular activities were initiated. The annual candy drive provided the necessary funds. The first activity undertaken, "Movie Night", brought such films to Lincoln as, In Harm's Way, The Blackboard Jungle, and King of Kings. The "New Front Fling", the first dance of the season, transformed the gym into the totally new world of the psychadelic. Two major activities highlighted the spring season. These were a carnival and a computer dance. 1968 proved to be an eventful year, setting a trend for years to follow.

Directed by Miss Josephine Caruso and Mr. Fred Skibitsky and accompanied on the piano by Betty Saddler and Eloise Goldshine, the choir has once again completed a successful year of performances both in and out of school.

Opening the season, bedecked in their newly acquired choir jackets, the Special Choir, a select group of choir members, performed by invitation for the Rotary Club and the D.A.R. on December 1. The Christmas spirit was once again instilled in the student body through performances for both the Senior and Junior High by all the choral groups. The Senior and Seventh grade choirs, the Special Choir, the boys' Cavaliers, the girls' Choraleers, and soprano soloist Judy Psotto also performed for the P.T.A. Holiday Program and the annual spring concert.

The National Honor Society is an organization designed for the purpose of honoring students of outstanding ability and achievement in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. Chartered at Lincoln High School in 1958 under the supervision of Mrs. Claire Weill and Miss Margaret Fitzgerald, the National Honor Society has established itself as a tutoring agency for students, and its members usher at many school and P.T.A. functions. This year, under the leadership of president William Kessler, funds were raised for the Family Service Society, and a school in Venezuela.

Officers, J. Martin, Treasurer, W. Kessler, President, P. Sussman, Secretary, and M. Kupchan, Vice-President.

Family Service

The Family Service Society in Yonkers has a Student Advisory Committee composed of ten students from each school. Ilene Gochman and Jeannette Martin represented Lincoln on the Exective Committee. This year's president, Marshall Kupchan, conducted a fund-raising sticker drive. The society also visited a rehabilitation clinic for drug addicts, and continued its invaluable tutorial program.

This past year proved to be both an active and successful one for the seventh and eighth grade classes. January 24th was the date of the first Junior High dance. During the Christmas vacation, Miss Haig's and Miss Southwich's seventh grade girls baked cookies for the children's ward in Cross County Hospital, and for servicemen in Vietnam. The seventh grade boys participated in tense and exciting intramural basketball games. The many Junior High Clubs were actively supported by these enthusiastic youngsters. Their eager participation in the carnival marked the close of the year.

Burning Enthusiasm

Seniors

Mrs. Josephine Brent

Since that day in early September when several spirited seniors-to-be met in an effort to make liveable the lounge "lot's happened", to say the very least. The election of officers Bruce Lemme, Greg Masone, Pat Amabile, and Glenn David marks the start of "Senior Action". The first bit of action involved the choosing of a senior hat. A super ski-hat was finally chosen which proved to serve as hat and scarf alike. Senior buttons were thrown in as part of the bargain—a first for Lincoln. Next, the case of the "Puzzled Pupils" or "Where to Hold the Prom?" The Waldorf was the answer. But, it was not until after mid-year exams and crams that spirit began to soar. There was the Junior-Senior hayride, the Senior Car Wash, the Carnival, and the long awaited Senior Prom. Lastly, graduation . . . and good-bye.

June, 1968

Dear Readers,

Our theme is fire. What is fire but the phenomenon of combustion manifested in light, flame, and heat. Fire is energy, action, spirit, enthusiasm, desire, life. Life contrary to existence, and life, fire, is what we are lacking at Lincoln, and what we, the editors of Lincoln Log '68 have striven to intensify through this book.

We overestimate, we underestimate. What do you see? An almost Utopia that can be had through the efforts of those that shall remain after we are gone. Lincoln—from Ice to Fire—let this be your goal.

We tell the truth! Lincoln's losses at football, the members of our teams, our coaches —all accurately recorded as it should be. This should not, this need not be altered! Win or lose—remember, Ice to Fire.

Our intentions would never have been fulfilled without the patient help and confidence of a few individuals: Mr. Morgan Hughes, Mrs. Mabel McCaine, Mrs. Margaret Scheele, our fellow editors, and Mr. Everett Arnold, a man of amazing placidity.

With wishes for a happy and healthy future,

Editors-in-Chief
